CLEVELAND AND CHICAGO.

Jennings Says They Will Be Factors Which Did Not Appear Last Year.

Hugh Jennings, leader of the Detroit Tigers, said through Denver on the wire that his home team, the Tigers, will be the most prosperous in history and that it is likely to develop into one of the closest races in the history of the American league.

There will be two strong factors in the American league race next year, said Hughes, "which did not appear in the last season. They are Cleveland and Chicago. Cleveland has been strengthening his aggregation slowly but effectively. I would not be surprised to see the Sox finish one, two, three. The Blues must be figured, too. They have pulled up wonderfully, and their victory is a serious consideration of their ability."

"Then, too, the Senators must be

PRICES RECOVER.

Net Result of Nervous Trading Was Fair Gain for Active Stocks.

New York, Feb. 17.—A day of nervous and unsettled trading on the stock exchange resulted in material recovery of prices from the effects of yesterday's selling movement. The market sold off at the opening, quickly rallied, declined again after a period of dullness, and then the day advanced a second time, the net result having fair gains for most of the active issues. In the light of today's developments it is believed that yesterday's liquidation was precipitated in no small measure by a series of bear drives, and that the selling movement probably was carried too far. The short interest apparently is now of the professional element, which early in the year led the bull movement. The stronger technical position of the market as thus indicated explained its ability to respond readily to support which was offered whenever the selling movement gathered headway. Dividends that this support was of a substantial character revived the market to what was at its improved level during most of the afternoon.

In the nervous state the market gave more attention to reports of the serious illness of a leading financier than would have been the case had sentiment been more confident, but the reports met with prompt denial, and stocks with which this financier is identified were among the strongest in the list. Reading was an especial object of attack and gave way before a rather violent onslaught in the afternoon but shared in the general recovery.

The day brought forth no developments of moment and the Wall street point of view, and the present uncertainty is looked for over the week-end pending resumption of dealings of the supreme court on Monday.

Missouri Pacific once more was singled out for attention by reason of its erratic course. After selling at a substantial loss it made a full recovery. It was reported unofficially that huge quantities of shares were being sold by the new controlling interests to place the property on a plane of high efficiency. Application was made by the Erie for permission to issue approximately $14,000,000 of notes and bonds to meet maturing obligations.

The declaration of dividend of one per cent. on Southern Railway preferred for no specified period was announced at the close of the market, and confirmed rumors long prevalent in the financial district.

According to Pittsburgh prices, substantial advances in the prices of iron bars and of wire products over previous quotations in the eastern district are now in effect. Tin plate shipments are heavier than for several weeks and virtually all the serviceable mills are reported to be now in operation. A further decline in copper exports of more than fifty percent from the previous week was reported.

Bonds were steady. Total sales, par value, $2,343,000. United States government bonds were unchanged on call.
